THE QUEEN'S SHORT SPEECH.

OPENS PARLIAMENT WITH BRIEFEST ON RECORD.

Tells "My Lords and Gentlemen" What She Wants Them to Do, and Evidently Hints That They May go Home Afterward.

By Wire to The Telegram

London, Dec. 6.—The Queen's speech was read to Parliament today, and is the shortest on record. It says:

"My Lords and Gentlemen:—It having become necessary to make further provision for the expenses of operating my armies in South Africa and China, I have summoned you to hold a special session in order that you may give your sanction to the enactments required for this purpose. You will not enter on the discussion of other matters requiring your attention until the ordinary meeting of Parliament next spring."

TWO ATTRACTIONS.

Booked for the State Normal College Before the Holidays.

There are two attractions booked for the State Normal College before the holidays. On Friday, the 14th instant, Polk Miller will give one of his well known evenings with the old time darky. Polk Miller is the real thing. His dialect sounds like negro talk, and with his banjo and song he can amuse old and young. All of those who have heard him want to hear him again and those who have not should not miss the opportunity.

The Bostonia Sextette, with Miss Edith Viola Ellsbree soprano, comes on Thursday, the 20th.

This concert company is one of the very finest on the road, and is the only high class concert company visiting Greensboro so far this season. It is an attraction that gets one dollar admission in many places. The tickets will be at a moderate price and the Greensboro people are cordially invited to go out to either of the above entertainments.

Porto Rican Soldiers.

A special train from Norfolk passed through the city this morning going to Atlanta. It carried two companies of the Eleventh Infantry, who have just arrived from Porto Rico. The soldiers were seemingly quite thirsty, but not being allowed to leave the cars, they were obliged to depend on the darkies hanging around the depot to bring the needful. Some of these failed to show up after receiving the money, but several bulky packages containing the dispensary product were handed in at the windows.

"Wesley Smith," who served in the Third Regiment in the recent unpleasantness with Spain, was on hand, dressed in his army overcoat, and entertained one car of the soldiers with reminiscences.

Still Having Good Houses.

Guy Woodward continues to attract good houses. Last night the play was "The Diamond Mystery," and was highly enjoyed by the house. Entertainments will be given the remainder of the week. Matinee Saturday afternoon. Who will get the gold watch?

MARRIAGE LAST NIGHT.

Mr. Jennings and Miss Hall Made One—The Ceremony Occurred at Dr. Smith's.

The home of Dr. Egbert Smith was the scene of a quiet wedding last evening immediately after prayer meeting, the happy couple being Mr. George Jennings and Miss Mabel Hall, both of this city.

It was in no sense a runaway, as no objections were entertained on either side, the couple simply perferring the ceremony to be a quiet one. Only the immediate family of the groom, Mr. Wm. Weatherly, and Miss Mamie Yates, were present.

Mr. Jennings is a member of the firm of Bloxton & Jennings, furniture dealers, and is a young man of much promise. Miss Hall is a sister of Mrs. D. R. Harry, and though a resident of this city but a short while she has made many friends who wish her much happiness.

Last evening when Miss Hall left Harry-Belk Bros. store she told Mr. Harry good bye and remarked that she was going away. Mr Harry told her he expected she would come back in the morning, and was as much surprised as any one at learning of her marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Jennings will live for the present with the groom's father on Fifth avenue.

Mr Carroll Will Locate Here.

It was stated some days ago that Mr. O. J. Carroll, of Raleigh, who was United States marshal of the eastern district under Cleveland, and before and since a well known traveling man, would move to Charlotte. This is a mistake. Mr. Carroll is in Greensboro for a day or two and says that he will move here just as soon as he can rent a suitable residence, which he is now trying to do. He is general agent of the New York Life.

New Insurance Agents.

Messrs. D. B. Tood and Thos. H. Tate, two well known young men of the city, have formed a co-partnership to do a general fire and life insurance and real estate business. They will represent good companies and treat their customers well. They will look after all kinds of real estate business They are opening an office in the Wright building, the room formerly occupied by Mayor Taylor.

Miss Worth Hurt.

She was out driving with a physician, who left her to hold the horses while he went in see a patient. The horses became frightened, jerked the reins from her hands and broke into a run. They ran seven squares at the top of their speed with scores of excited men on the route trying to stop them, brought up against a telephone pole and threw the lady out. She sustained bruises on her head and body and a severe nervous shock. She is universally esteemed and admired and the whole community regrets the accident.

FUNERAL OF GENERAL YORK

BODY LAID AWAY IN GREAT SPLENDOR.

Put to Rest in the Temple in the Enclosure of the Dowager Empress' Palace—Court May Return to Pekin.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Pekin, Dec. 6.—Li Hung Chang yesterday received an imperial edict announcing that General Tiung Fu Hsi Fu Hsiang had been stripped of all his honors and offices, but allowed to retain the command of his army and had been ordered to Kansu province with five thousand of his men. This is the most important decree yet issued by the court, and the action of court in regard to Teung Fu Hsiang, improves the chances for the return of the Empress Dowager and Emperor to Pekin, but to what extent it is impossible to say at this time.

The Funeral of Colonel York, commander of the German column, who was asphyxiated when sleeping near a charcoal fire, was an impressive international affair. The foreign ministers and all the secretaries of the foreign legations and all the foreign generals with their staffs, attended. The body will remain under guard until the spring, when it will be removed to Germany. The Funeral took place from the palace of the Dowager Empress. The Coffin was deposited in one of the temples inside the palace inclosure.

HOW TO GET MORE TAXES.

This Will be the Great Question That Will Confront the Next Legislature—The Treasurer's Recommendation.

Raleigh Correspondence Charlotte Observer.

As was mentioned some days ago the Legislature to meet next month will be confronted with the great question of how to get more taxes, as during the fiscal year, which ended November 30 last, the excess of disbursements over direct receipts was $178,000. There will certainly be a pressing call for more money for the public schools, which now get $963,000, and when it is urged ought to have at least $1,500,000. There are three ways of raising more taxes: one by an increase of assessments of all property, another by taxing railroads more, either in general valuation along with other property or else by a tax on receipts; a third by an inheritance and legacy tax and a tax on oysters which will really amount to something. If any one will take the trouble to ask the State Auditor about the general taxes he will no doubt be told that property is not taxed at more than two-thirds of its actual value. The investigation of the tax assessment case now in progress appears to have quite well confirmed this statement. A preacher testified that his farm, worth $15.000, was assessed at only $5,000. A great deal of property escapes taxation.

The State Treasurer will say in his annual report to the Legislature that the State will be confronted by a deficit of over $200,000 next July unless measures to increase the revenue are found. He recommends the creation of a tax commission to prepare a new revenue and machinery act, and to get all property on the tax lists. He will also recommend that where counties apply for power to levy special taxes for county purposes, they be required to pay the same proportion to the State as under the general law.

Marriage of Mr. Dilworth.

The Durham Herald of yesterday says:

Tonight at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. James W. Dilworth will lead to the hymenal altar his companion for the remainder of life's journey in the person of Miss Winona Scarlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Scarlett. It will be a very quiet event and but a few of the relatives and most intimate friends will be present to witness this happy culmination of a long love affair.

[Mr. Dilworth is leader of the Gate City Band. He and his bride passed through the city at noon on the way to Reidsville.]

Mr. H. B. Varner, editor of the Lexington Dispatch and Commissioner of Labor and Printing, is to be married to Miss Anna Florence Moore, of Lexington.

TODAY'S WORK IN CONGRESS.

Ways and Means Committee Will Report a Bill to Reduce Taxes $40,000,000. Fought by Democrts.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The Senate committee on commerce and forest had its first meeting this morning. Senator Frye offered an amendment providing that all ships leaving ports of the United States for foreign ports must carry a cargo equal to 50 per cent. of their capacity.

The House committee on Ways and Means adopted a bill prepared by the republicans providing for a reduction of forty millions in the war tax revenue. The Democrats fought it at every step, but it was not a stormy meeting. Swanson, Democrat, moved to make the total reduction sixty millions, and also to eliminate the tobacco taxes. Both motions were voted down, by a party vote.

The bill was amended so as to go into effect immediately upon its passage.

VISITORS DIDN'T GIVE TO THE POOR

By Wire to The Telegram.

Paris, Dec. 6 —At the opening of the Exposition boxes for the reception of offerings for the poor were placed on exhibit and remained till the close. It was expected that a goodly sum would be realized, but this was a disappointment. When the boxes were opened they were found to contain only 58 francs and 60 centimes.

GIBSON JAILED.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Pleased With It.

He is fifty-five years old and this is the first time he ever rode on a train. Southsider Wants Better Sidewalks.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

The recent work on Lewis street between the Greensboro Lumber Co. and Morrison's store has left the sidewalk in such condition that when it rains it becomes almost impassible for pedestrains. A little work here would help things wonderfully.

GIVE THE HAND OF FELLOWSHIP

LORD ROBERTS THUS ADVISES SOUTH AFRICANS.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Worcester, Cape Colony, Dec. 6—The attendance at the Africanders' congress tomorrow is expected to be fully four thousand. The hotels are already filled to their full capacity. The Africanders ridicule the idea of trouble. They say they can surely air their grievances without resort to violence. They are greatly incensed at the posting of guns in positions commanding their meeting place. The slopes surrounding the town are crowned with artillery troops and cannon have been posted on Gallows Hill and Prospect Hill.

ROBERTS SPEAKS

Durban, Dec. 6—Lord Roberts started yesterday for Capetown on the Canada. He had an enthusiastic send-off. In a speech he exhorted his hearers to hold out the hand of fellowship to those who had been their enemies.

COURT PREVENTS A CREMATION.

New York, Dec. 4.—The widow of George Everall, who died on November 30, 1900, has been restrained by an order just issued by Justice Blanchard from cremating the body of her late husband, to prevent its being buried beside his first wife.

A previous injunction restrained the widow, Katherine Everall, from making any disposition whatever of the body of her husband. It was secured on the application of Harry J. Everall, Florence E. Mannegan, and Annie E. Archer, the three children of the deceased.

Harry J. Everall made an affidavit in which is this clause:

"That Katherine Everall, the widow of the petitioners' father and his second wife, refuses to surrender the body of his father to the children and threatens to burn, cremate, and dispose of the body to prevent its being interred in Woodlawn cemetery beside the body of his first wife."

The affidavit says that Mr. Everall, Sr., during his life constructed a vault in Woodlawn, and requested the son to see that he was buried there beside his first wife.

The injunction today restrains the widow and also the children from making any other disposition of the body, pending a final order of the court, than to put it in the receiving vault in Woodlawn cemetery.

Under the original order the body could not have been buried at all.

The Number Should be Easily Found.

Wilmington Messenger.

President McIver, of Greensboro State Normal and Industrial College, has a big plan on hand. It is to raise $100,000 endowment that shall be utilized as a fund to be lent to aid young women without means to obtain an education. He wants 1,000 men to give him $100, each to this commendable end. The Messenger wishes him all speed and success in the movement. Young men are often helped in this way, but the other sex is overlooked and neglected. In a great commonwealth with nearly 1,900,000 inhabitants it should not be impossible to find one thousand men with means and inclination to give $100 each to such a beneficent scheme—to help worthy, aspiring girls to a useful education. Great success to Dr. McIver's scheme of endowment.

A LAWYER KILLS A MINISTER.

SENT A BULLET THROUGH THE HEAD

No Cause is Assigned for the Shooting. The Lawyer and Preacher Met at the Latter's Gate and Passed a Few Words Only Before Both Were Lying in Their Own Blood on the Ground.

Williamson, W. Va , Dec. 5.—This afternoon Hon. S. Davis Stokes shot and instantly killed Rev. John W. Wohl in a street duel here, Mr. Stokes being also dangerously injured. Tonight in the whole town and even in the country districts the excitement is intense.

Mr. Stokes, one of the most prominent young lawyers in Mingo county, left his office this afternoon immediately after dinner, and pleasantly greeting friends on the way, walked with quick and firm step in the direction of the house occupied by Rev. Mr. Wohl and his housekeeper. Mrs Levine, Mr. Wohl's family being in Kentucky. Mr. Stokes stopped at the gate to talk with Mrs. Levine, who stood in her doorway. Within a few minutes the minister came out of the house. He seemed to be greatly excited about something and said to Mrs. Levine as he passed her at the door;

She laughingly replied that the day was far too pretty to be spent entirely within doors, and Mr. Stokes interrupted by remarking, "Yes, don't think of leaving us for the house."

Quick as a flash Mr. Wohl turned and addressing Stokes said: "Leave the premises."

An altercation followed. Both men ran to the sidewalk directly in front of the house. Something was said, almost indistinguishable, that drew from Rev. Mr. Wohl a harsh retort. "You are a liar," and in an instant the report of a revolver was heard. Stokes stumbled, tried to regain his footing but fell in the street. Wounded as he was, he drew his revolver and covered the minister, now within ten feet of his fallen foe. Again Wohl fired, and simultaneously with that shot the gun in the sinking hands of Stokes spoke. When the smoke cleared away two men lay in their own blood on the sidewalk. A crowd ran to the scene. Mr. Wohl was dead. Chance had carried the bullet from Stokes' pistol through the head of the minister, killing him as he fell. The bullet had entered Stokes' side below the heart and passed entirely through his body.

In the hall of the minister's home, facing the fearful duel to the death, across the doorway was found Mrs. Levine. It was at first thought that she was dead, and had probably been shot, but an investigation showed that she had only fainted from fright.

Up to a late hour this evening Mr. Stokes had refused to say anything concerning the terrible tragedy, and Mrs. Levine is in two much of a state of excitement to talk. Mr. Wohl was recognized as one of the most forceful and eloquent of Presbyterian ministers of this State. Mr. Stokes is an ex-Virginia University student and comes from one of the best families of the Old Dominion.

STIMULATING, SAYS MR. MEBANE.

He Thinks That the Amendment Has Already Begun to Effect the School Attendance.

News and Observer.

President Mebane, of Catawba College, was in the city yesterday. He says that the college has a liberal patronage and is in a flourishing condition.

Speaking of the effect of the passage of the Constitutional Amendment, he said: "The idea that comments itself to me most of all in regard to the amendment is the stimulus it has proven to education. It was for this reason that I supported the amendment, and I gave this as my reason for so doing at the time that I announced my advocacy of the measure.

"The prediction that the amendment would stimulate education has come true. In Newton, where I live I know of a number of men, who work in factories, who started their children to school this year for the first time in five years. Investigation has revealed the fact that they did so in order to enable them to meet the requisites of the registration law. And I am assured by many others who are in positions to know that such a disposition has been manifested throughout the State."

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking spot, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

KILGO, DUKE AND ODELL SUSTAINED

The North Carolina Conference Passes Resolutions Commendatory of These Gentlemen.

Newberne Special to Raleigh Post.

An interesting, and to many unexpected, event followed. This was contained in a resolution by Dr. E. A. Yates as follows:

"Whereas certain events having recently transpired touching the moral integrity of Dr. J. C. Kilgo, president of Trinity College, W. R. Odell, member of the M. E. church South in Concord, and B. N. Duke, of Main Street Methodist church, Durham; therefore

"Resolved, that this conference has unabated confidence in the said J. C. Kilgo, W. R. Odell and B. N. Duke, and assures these brethren that it shall be the pleasure and duty of this conference to aid them in overcoming, in the name of our Lord, the efforts being made to destroy our college and damage the influence of the Methodist church in North Carolina.

"Resolved, that in our judgment the church will be more united than ever in her prayer and effort and purpose to sustain the college with its able president and faculty, and we hereby offer the Messrs. Duke, the most generous benefactors of the college, our sincere thanks for their support of the institutions.

"E. A. YATES,
"J. B. HURLEY."

The resolution was put and adopted by a rising vote. It was unanimously adopted by all the members rising to their feet.

SENT HIM TENTH COMMANDMENT.

Man Who Employed Wife of Another as Housekeeper Objected.

Special to The Washington Post.

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 4.—P. R. Buckwald was arrested here today charged with sending postal cards to Gustav Schniedecken bearing the quotation, "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife." They reached Schniedecken four successive days, and then he called on the Federal authorities to stop them. All were signed by Buckwald.

When taken before Commissioner Rogers, Buckwald explained that he and his wife had had trouble, and some months ago she answered an advertisement for a housekeeper. She found Schneidceken to be the advertiser, and accepted the position at $5 a month. One day, Buckwald said, his children returned from Sunday school with a pamphlet, on which was printed the ten commandents. He read them through until he came to the last one, which struck him forcibly. It appeared to him to fit the case exactly, so he concluded he would inform Schniedecken of what he thought of his wife's deserting him by an application of the commandments. Buckwald said he had no intention of violating the law. The case was held under advisement.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5.

MUCH FOR ALL, MOST FOR US.

The new century could not be opened with a greater undertaking than the construction of the long-talked-of canal across the isthmus which connects North and South America. There seems to be a real desire on the part of leading Republicans now to see this accomplished. Senator Morgan, who has fought for the measure for years, stated Tuesday that a bill to construct the canal by the Nicaragua route would certainly be passed at this session. When this statement was made, there were present Senators Platt, Hanna, and other influential members of the committee of which Senator Morgan is chairman, and they apparently acquiesced. Congress has been hammering away at this for years, and if the work is put in motion by the Fifty-sixth congress that body may well rest on its laurels. It has been said that the trans-continental railroads have kept the canal scheme blocked. It may be interesting in this connection to recollect that Mr. Huntington, who was slightly interested in railroads, is dead, and Mr. Hanna, who is interested in ships, is a prime favorite at court. The great benefit, that would accrue to the United States by the completion of this canal are well set forth in the report of the Isthmian Canal Commission, which has just been submitted to Congress. It says:

As compared with Europe, the United States will derive from the canal far greater benefits, both commercially and industrially. The canal once opened, our trade with the west coast of South America will rapidly increase, as will also the volume of our trade with the Orient. The amount of the American commerce through the canal will quickly surpass the total amount of Europe's traffic.

An Isthmian canal will strengthen the unity of the national and political interests of the United States and promote its commerce and industries.

By bringing the eastern and western sections of our country into closer relations by reducing the time and cost of transporting our western products to Europe and by enabling the Eastern, Southern and Central States to reach the raw materials and markets of Pacific countries, cheaply and expeditiously, the canal will more fully identify political and social interests and quicken the industrial activity of every section of the United States. The manufacturers of the Eastern and Southern seas, the cotton from the South, etc., will flow out to the foreign countries in an increasing volume.

As it will give this country an advantage over Europe in trade with the Orient, so will it give the South an advantage over New England and the East. The seaports of the South will grow rapidly and the railroads leading to them will grow as well. As much as the canal means to the whole country it means more to us.

The commission thinks that the canal by the Nicaragua route, which it finds the most practicable and feasible, would cost $200,540,000, and require eight ysars in building, two years of which would be consumed in preparatory work. The commission having in mind the increasing size of ocean going vessels, it was determined to fix upon a depth of 35 feet at mean low water and a bottom width of 150 feet, with some increase of dimensions at certain points. These dimensions are larger than those proposed for any previous canal scheme, and would allow all but the largest vessels to pass in the canal. The commission does not consider the Panama route, upon which considerable work has been done, but which will never be completed.

An Associated Press dispatch from Indianapolis says that Chas. W. Walter, secretary of the Middle-of-the-road Populist State Committee, has issued a call to be held on the 22nd instant, for the purpose of forming a new national party, to embrace social Democrats, Silver Republicans, reform Democrats and Prohibitionsts. "We expect," he says, "that in 1904 our party will be the second in numercial strength in the country. We expect that in the West it will absorb the Democratic party. I know personally from men close to Wm. J. Bryan that he is in sympathy with the movement." The names suggested for the new party are "Federate," "American" and "Federal."

We have to remark that we hope the Prohibitionists won't be caught in the trap.

The Baptist Female University at Raleigh, only a little over a year old, has 224 students. Its debt is now $12,000 and an earnest effort will be made to have the Baptist State Convention, now in session, extinguish this.

NEW FOODS AND CURES

Treatment by Light Which Has Become Popular Among Members of Royalty—Satisfactory Results of Scientific Research.

The past 12 months have been a great time in the world of healing. Three things have been pushed to the front which are helping to revolutionize doctoring.

The most important of these is the light treatment, which has been ardently championed by the princess of Wales and the dowager empress of Russia. The princess of Wales was so anxious to see the light treatment begun here that she herself brought one of the first sets of apparatus obtainable and presented it to the London hospital.

The idea of the light treatment is that sunlight kills the microbes. In some of the cure establishments of southern Germany sun baths are regularly used, the patient letting the sun pour down on his uncovered body during the hottest part of the day.

In big cities this cannot be done, but Prof. Finsen, of Copenhagen, elaborated an apparatus by which the rays of the electric light can serve as a substitute for the sun. The bacteria are destroyed by the violet and blue rays only, and, with these rays alone, it is possible to stand a degree of heat which otherwise would be insupportable. If the violet rays of a strong light are properly applied bacteria die.

In London this treatment has during the past few months been largely used for the cure of lupus and skin diseases generally.

But even the most conservative doctors are beginning to see that the light cure may go very much further. They are now planning ways of applying the violet rays, in connection with the Roentgen ray apparatus, to the lungs of consumptives.

If this proves right, a means will be found for combating a dozen of the most fatal of modern diseases. Even cancer may at last meet a real cure.

Europe is on the eve of a new boom in food. Once beef tea was all the rage, then port wine was the fad, then came milk. But the fancy food stuff of to-morrow is albumen. Various makes are on the market, most of them coming from Germany and bearing fancy names ending in "on." There are plasmon and tropon and somatose, and others. They are all brownish or whitish powders, and you have only to take a spoonful a day (so the venders say) to become a new man.

However this may be, the albumen foods are certainly going to boom. In a few months it will be quite the thing for one's hostess to ask: "Do you take a little troplatose in your tea?" just as she now asks "any sugar?"

The explorer may forget his sandwiches, but he will be careful to see that his bottle of albumen is safely stored away in his inner pocket.

Jack's Prayer.

Discussion over our prize-money awards in the Spanish war brings out some old stories on that subject, the following being from the Argonaut: At the battle of Trafalgar a sailor found kneeling by his gun, as his ship was about to engage the enemy, was asked by the first lieutenant if he was afraid. "Afraid!" answered Jack, with an expression of the utmost disdain; "no, your honor; I'm only praying that the enemy's shot may be distributed like the prize money—the greatest part among the officers."—Detroit Free Press.

The news comes that John E. Fowler, the Populist Republican candidate for Congress in the third district, will contest Thomas' seat.

Lost It's Criptogram.

Raleigh Post.

We thought everybody knew that Lord Bacon, Lord High Chancellor of England, was William Shakespere, but The Post has gone and made him out Warren Hastings or some other precious rogue, says the Greensboro Telegram. Yes, we lost our criptogram, and hence the slip. Whoever it was guilty of the remark, it fitted the occasion to which we applied it the other day, that considering the opportunity to jerk a member of the American Tobacco Company, regardless of all other matters, the Granville jury, as well as the victim, must be astonished at its moderation.

The increase in shipments of coal from the United States to Europe shows plainly that the market abroad exists, but until better facilities for transportation have been provided the business is not apt to assume extensive proportions.

DIVORCE IS TOO COMMON.

The Courts of England Are Granting Them More Than Ever Before.

Official figures show that the divorce court in England was not nearly so busy in 1898 as it had been in 1897. In the latter year 583 and in 1898 43 marriages were dissolved. It is worthy of note that over 65 per cent. of the petitions presented to the divorce court had reference to marriages of from five to twenty years' standing. The majority of all the petitions presented were from husbands, but of those relating to marriages of 20 and more years' duration the larger number were from wives. An interesting feature of the figures of the English divorce court indicates the auspices under which the marriages it was in 1898 asked to annul were celebrated. About 70 per cent. are to be credited to the established church, about eight per cent. to other denominations and about 20 per cent. to the registry offices. The fact that two-fifths of all the marriages dissolved were childless leads to the reflection that absence of children from the fireside tends to the dissolution of the marriage tie. There is no doubt that the presence of children is a source of strength to the matrimonial bond, because it adds unspeakably to the happiness of the married couple.

The width of a flash of lightning has been measured by Mr. George Rumker, of the Hamburg observatory. A photograph was secured last August as lightning struck a tower a third of a mile away, and from the distance of the tower and the focal distance of the camera objective was possible to calculate the breadth of the discharge shown in the picture. It has been determined that the flash was one-fifth of an inch wide. Ramifications shown in the photograph on each side of the main discharge are attributed to the strong gale that was blowing, the phenomena appearing like a silk ribbon with shreds floating in the wind.

OLD STAGE EFFECTS.

SCENES THAT USED TO THRILL AUDIENCES YEARS AGO.

A Ludicrous Mishap That Once Floored Frank Mayo In the Climax In "Davy Crockett"—A Crude Fire Scene That Was Very Popular.

"Great Scott, how a modern audience would gibe at the stage effects that used to thrill folks thirty or so years ago!" said an old theatrical manager who was in the city recently en route to Frisco. "Take the famous wolf scene in 'Davy Crockett,' for instance, that made a fortune for dear old Frank Mayo. That was considered one of the most realistic things of its day, and it stirred audiences to absolutely frantic excitement. You remember how it went: Davy and the heroine have taken refuge in a mountain cabin, and suddenly they hear a long drawn wail — Ow-o-o-o-o! Ow-o-o-o-o-o! It sounded like a tomcat on a moonlit fence and was emitted by the 'prop' man, standing in the wings. Davy springs to his feet. He listens with his hand to his ear. The orchestra plays tremolo. 'The wolves!' he cries, and the house begins to hold its breath.

"Meanwhile the prop man puts on more steam. The beasts are nearing. Davy glares around distractedly. Merciful hevings! He has burned up the door bar for fuel! The prop man howls at the top of his voice. Davy dashes up his sleeve. He springs to the door, rams his bare arm through the empty staples, and two stuffed wolves' heads are poked suddenly through a hole at the bottom! Then the curtain drops, there is more tremolo, and it rises again to discover Davy fainting at the portal with a couple of streaks of red paint around his good right arm to show where the staples pinched. That scene would excite derision today, but it kept the wolf from Mayo's own door for many a long year. Incidentally it was responsible for some ludicrous mishaps.

"On one occasion, while touring through Iowa, the special scenery was delayed by a railroad wreck and a local stage carpenter undertook to 'fake up' the cabin interior. By some mistake he made the staples several inches too small, and when Mayo, who was rather portly, rushed to the rescue he was horrified to discover that he could not get his arm through the irons. He pushed and squirmed and sweat blood, but it was no go, and as the wolves were supposed to be advancing on a dead lope the situation was decidedly critical. It so happened that the actress who played the heroine that season was very spirituelle, not to say scrawny, and while poor Davy was still wriggling at the door some gallery god suddenly piped out: 'Break away, fatty, and let de lady try!' The audience roared and Mayo signaled for a quick curtain.

"Fire effects are regarded with disfavor nowadays," continued the manager, "because if too realistic they are apt to create a panic in a crowded theawas no danger of mistaking them for the real thing, and they were great drawing cards. Back in the early seventies Joe Murphy, the Irish comedian, toured the country in a play called 'Help,' which contained a fire scene that was regarded as the most remarkable ever produced on the road.

"The curtain rose on a barnlike interior, supposed to represent an opium den in San Francisco. Presently a Chinaman passed an open door in the back, carrying a lamp, and a moment later a crash was heard, indicating that he had dropped it. A red glow immediately came through the chinks in the rear wall and grew rapidly brighter and brighter, while there was a sound of excited footsteps, indistinct shouting and furniture being dragged across the floor. All that, occurring out of sight, worked the audience to a high pitch of nervous tension. Then smoke began to ooze through the cracks, the red glow continued to increase, and all of a sudden the entire back wall tottered and sank forward on the stage, disclosing a dim perspective, with flames shooting up here and there and firemen rushing pellmell in every direction.

"That spectacle created a tremendous sensation wherever it was put on, yet the entire effect was produced by a few shovelfuls of red fire burned in the wings and a little lycopodium powder, which flashes into a big, harmless blaze and was concealed in tin boxes attached to different parts of the setting. The back wall was let down on a couple of piano wires, which used to get stuck occasionally and suspend it in midair. There was a celebrated fire scene in Chanfrau's play of 'Mose,' but it was admitted to be inferior to the one I have described, and the crudities of both are very laughable when compared to modern attempts along the same line.

"The last thing of that kind I saw was in London a few years ago. It represented the burning of a tenement. Smoke and flames poured out of the casements; immense beams crashed down, scattering showers of sparks; walls crumbled, people leaped from the windows and were caught in nets, and firemen sent streams of real water into the blazing ruins. As I watched the mimic conflagration my mind reverted to the days of Chanfrau and Murphy, and I smole several smiles a yard wide and all teeth."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A NIGHT OF TERROR.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought that she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. Kings New Discovery, saying that it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c. and $1.00. COLD STEEL OR DEATH.

"There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wis., by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jauntice. He didn't count on the marvellous power of Electric Bitters to cure stomach and liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. It's positively guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price 50c at C. E. Holton's drug store.

8038—Ladies' Golf or Walking Skirt with or without Circular Flounce.
22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34 inch waist.

LADIES' GOLF OR WALKING SKIRT, NO. 8038, WITH OR WITHOUT CIRCULAR FLOUNCE.

Recent rumors from Paris say that train skirts are going out, but the majority of women are still wearing them and the newest cloth gowns, although straight around the lower edge, just touch the ground. This makes a walking skirt for shopping and rainy weather an absolute necessity, and no woman's wardrobe is considered complete without at least one skirt which reaches just below the shoe tops and is fashioned on perfect fitting lines.

Some women have objected to the short skirts because they were plain and had no flare at the lower edge. The mode illustrated is made with a close circular flounce which gives a stylish effect around the bottom.

It is shaped with three pieces—a front gore and wide circular sides which reach to the center back where the closing is hidden by an inverted plait at either side. The skirt is fitted smooth over the hips with darts and can be made with or without the flounce as preferred. When the flounce is used the skirt is cut short on the line of perforations and the flounce attached at the lower edge. It is finished with machine stitching in strictly tailor style.

Some doubled faced goods are made with the plaid on the bias in the flounce, but most of them are in self color as illustrated.

To make the skirt in the medium size will require three and seven-eighths yards of fifty-four-inch material without the circular flounce, and four and one-half yards with the circular flounce. The pattern, No. 8038, is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34-inch waist measure.

CHIC BOLEROS.

One of the prettiest boleros is cut to come just below the bsut, and and shows a deep corselet belt which is usually swathed in satin, panne or silk, but is occasionally of handsomely embroidered velvet, and it may be of elastic studded with gold or steel ornaments or nail heads. Many of these boleros pouch slightly over the belt, for Dame Fashion has not yet tired of her liking for this particular effect. Some of these boleros are cut so as to hang loosely out from the figure to accentuate the bust and diminish the size of the waist. These little boleros are the genuine article separate from the bodice—not the bolero simply in effect which has been so much used for some time past.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments, doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucuous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B B. B is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure ond so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

When the stomach is tired out it must have a rest, but we can't live without food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure "digests what you eat" so that you can eat all the good food you want while it is restoring the digestive organs to health. It is the only preparation that digests all kinds of food. Howard Gardner.

GOOD ADVICE.

The most miserable things in the world are those suffering from dyspepsia and liver complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual costiveness, palpitation of the heart, heart-burn, waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the stomach, yellow skin, coated tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, etc. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. Get Green's Prize Almanac.
